No. 14.—Captain Henry Maurice Ray is granted leave out of India for six months with effect from the 20th March 1911.

Captain Nono Kitto is granted leave out of India for one year, with effect from the 1st April 1911.

By order,

P. B. WARBURTON,

First Assistant Resident.

5. In tanks of the 2nd class, an irrigation rate for each tank has been fixed at Settlement, which rate shall be liable to revision only at the next succeeding settlement.

The rate fixed is in each case the rate of water charge per acre of soil actually irrigated by flow from the water of tank and shall be charged at each harvest on the actually irrigated area only. But sowing waterings from a second class tank shall be charged at the uniform rate of Rs 1-4-0 per acre watered which sum shall be charged though the land so watered has been ploughed only, and not sown: provided that this watering charge shall not be collected from land afterwards irrigated in the same harvest and charged with the irrigation rate.

Where the water is taken wholly by "lift" only and not at all by "flow", only one-half of the full flow rate shall be charged.

6. The assessment of tanks of the 3rd and 4th classes has been distributed on the holdings, and shall remain unchanged during the currency of the period for which such assessment was made.

7. The assessment of tanks of the 1st and 2nd classes shall be made half-yearly while the crops are in the ground, after an inspection of such crops and a testing of the statements in the fields by the officer deputed for this purpose. Each sharer shall be informed by notice of the sum due from him, and no assessments so made shall be collected until two weeks have elapsed from the date of such notice, to allow of objections being lodged and disposed of.

8. Any objection to the assessment of a field irrigated from tanks of the 1st and 2nd classes made on the ground that the crops have not reached maturity, must be filed while the crop is on the ground, and pending the disposal of any such objection the crop shall not be removed without the sanction of the Assistant Commissioner or of some officer empowered by him.

9. Any watering taken by tanks of the 1st class shall, unless special rates have been granted under rule 4 (a), render the cultivator liable to pay the full rates for the crop to which it is given. Provided that when the water in the tank fails before the crop is brought to maturity (as hereinafter defined), the land shall be assessed at such reduced rate as may seem to the Assistant Commissioner equitable.

10. If in tanks of the 1st or 2nd class a cultivator takes water for the autumn crop with the obvious intention of softening the ground for the spring crop ensuing, the assessing officer may direct that he shall pay the rate chargeable for a sowing watering.

11. Land assessed at well rates at settlement, if irrigated with the permission of the Assistant Commissioner or officer empowered to act under Rule 55 from any tank of the 1st or 2nd class, shall be charged for at the uniform rate of Rs 5 per acre for the harvest, but there shall be deducted therefrom the amount of the Chahi rate paid as land revenue on the land so irrigated.

12. "Bhum" and "Muafi" lands which have been declared to be entitled to receive water at privileged rates, shall pay uniformly Rs 1-4-0 the acre per harvest, however many waterings they have had, and irrespective of whether such lands bring a crop to full maturity or not; provided that if the crop totally fails this charge shall not be collected. When such lands have not been declared entitled to get water at privileged rates, they shall pay the rate of the harvest as paid under the rules by Khalsa lands of the same tank.

13. Fodder crops grown in the beds of tanks during the hot months will not be assessed.

14. The irrigated area of a village shall be shewn in acres without fractions, and the water revenue of a village in rupee without fractions. In distributing water revenue on the holdings fractions of an anna other than $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ shall be omitted.

15. Method of assessing water rate on 2nd class tanks:—

- (1) Irrigated autumn crops pay the full water rate; provided the outturn is not less than 25% of a full average yield. Where the outturn is less than 25% of a full yield, the water rate should be remitted.
- (2) Irrigated spring crops pay the full water rate provided the water is above sluice level on February 15th.
- (3) Otherwise irrigated spring crops pay one-third of the water rate for each watering (other than the sowing watering), no extra charge being made for waterings in excess of three.

B.—The collection, suspension, remission and the refund of water revenue [Regulation, section 4 (1) (b)].

16. The dates for the collection of the instalments of water revenue shall be the same as those sanctioned for the land revenue of the district.

17. In tanks of 1st class Lumbardars and Patels, or whosoever collects water revenue shall receive Rs 3-2-0 per cent. on collections paid in by them on or before the day on which the collections become due.

18. Subject to the orders of the Commissioner, the Assistant Commissioner may suspend the collection of any water revenue or other dues payable under these rules.

19. (1) The Commissioner may, of his own motion, or on the recommendation of the Assistant Commissioner, remit the revenue of any tank to the amount of one-quarter of the whole assessment of the same, if the tank be of the 2nd, 3rd, or 4th class and to the amount of one quarter of the assessment in any particular holding in tanks of the 1st class. All other remissions require the sanction of the Chief Commissioner, to whom they shall be submitted half-yearly for orders.

(2) The ordinary Rules for suspension and remission of Revenue shall apply to tank lands when the revenue authorities think their application necessary.

20. No refund of collections made under these Rules shall be granted except with the sanction of the Commissioner.

C.—Distribution of water of tanks, and the decision of disputes with respect thereto [Regulation, section 4 (1) (c)].

21. In tanks of the 1st class the Assistant Commissioner may distribute water according to his discretion.

In tanks of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes, the Panchayet hereinafter provided and appointed under these rules, shall, three weeks previous to the opening of the sluices, draw up a list of the fields in the order in which they are to get water, and furnish each Lumbardar with a copy of the same. Provided that nothing in this or any other rule shall, without the order of the Commissioner, interfere with or change any arrangements made in this behalf at settlement.

22. All applications for water from tanks of the 1st class shall be in writing, and shall state specifically the period for which the water is required, and no change in such application, except in the form of an amended written one, shall be permitted. Such applications need not be delivered in person, but must be signed by the applicant. They may be on unstamped paper.

23. No order granting water passed on any such applications shall, unless it specifically states the reverse, remain in force after the 31st March immediately succeeding the date of the order. Water required after that date and before the next succeeding autumn harvest may be given by the Assistant Commissioner on the terms laid down in Rule 4 (a) for ordinary spring crops, and without additional payment in case of crops paying a yearly rate.

Except for sugar cane or garden produce, no land shall be entitled to more than three waterings, and a sowing watering in the spring harvest.

24. Water shall not be given to any land commanded by a well held in the same interest as the land, except for special reasons to be recorded by the authority granting the water.

25. Water shall not be taken before day-light or after dark without special permission of the administering authority.

26. In tanks of the 1st and 2nd classes fields shall be divided into beds of 60 to the bigha before water is admitted.

27. The outlets from Government tanks are the property of Government.

In tanks of the 1st class, where cisterns have been made outside these outlets, cultivators shall regulate their supplies from such cisterns, and no one, save an official properly authorised by the Assistant Commissioner, shall open or close the outlets.

In tanks of the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th classes the outlets shall be opened and closed only by some one duly authorised by the Panchayet.

28. Where the Assistant Commissioner decides that a new watercourse should be constructed through the lands of one cultivator to irrigate those of another, or where he decides that the watercourse of one cultivator should, under any conditions which may seem equitable, be used for the conveyance of water by another cultivator who was not a party to its construction, such order shall not be carried out until the lapse of the period hereinafter prescribed for appeal to the Commissioner, nor, if appealed against, until the Commissioner's decision is received.

29. Whenever a dispute arises as to the use, maintenance or construction of any watercourse by persons having or claiming to have rights in the same, the order of the officer determining the dispute shall be final as regards the irrigation of any crops then standing, but shall be subject to an appeal as regards future harvest.

30. Either with or without the consent of the Panchayet, the Assistant Commissioner may appoint a watcher or watchers to tanks of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes. These watchers shall be paid by the persons using tank water in proportion to the water rate paid by them. Provided that no such appointment or appointments shall relieve the Panchayet of the tank of its responsibility.

31. Subject to such orders as may be issued from time to time under Rules 54 (G) and 55 (b), cultivators shall regulate their own supply of water, and shall be responsible for any waste of water, by whomsoever occasioned, taking place on days when they are irrigating at openings or in watercourses which are in their power, and usually opened, or closed, or used by them, also for any waste occasioned by neglect to properly close any watercourse when ceasing to irrigate from it. The authorised distribution of water must not be interfered with, nor must the water be used in any way not authorised by these rules.

32. In tanks of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes, when disputes as to the distribution of water arise, the principle to be observed in dealing with such disputes is, that land demarcated as tank land at the current assessment and paying a higher soil rate for the advantage of its position, has the prior claim to water and that in years of failure of the rain the land nearest the tank should ceteris paribus, be preferred to that further off.

D.—Repairs of tanks, ducts and watercourses, and of works connected therewith [Regulation, Section 4 (1) (d)].

33. For facility of supervision of repairs the Chief Commissioner may divide the tanks of the district into such number of circles as he may deem fit, and may from time to time vary such division.

34. With reference to rule 56 (e) and (f) in tanks of the 1st class the Lumbardaer of the village taking water, and in those of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes the Panchayet (acting through its head member), is responsible that all watercourses are kept in proper repairs by their owners and that no water is allowed to pass into any watercourse which is not in a fit state of repair. The Assistant Commissioner may, if he deems it necessary, cause any repair to such watercourses to be executed and the cost of such repair shall be recovered from the owners in the manner provided for the recovery of arrears of land revenue.

35. In tanks of the 4th class the Panchayet shall be responsible for carrying out of all repairs; should such repairs be neglected the Assistant Commissioner may, either on the complaint of a sharer or of his own motion, cause such repairs to be executed, and the cost of such repairs shall be recovered in the manner provided for the recovery of the arrears of land revenue. Provided that this rule shall not authorise altering the capacity of any tank unless the majority of those taking water are willing to pay for the cost of such alteration and to meet the charges for maintenance of the tank in its altered condition.

36. Watercourses must be kept in proper repairs by the owners and water shall not be admitted into a watercourse which is not in a fit state of repair.

37. Watercourses must, when deemed necessary by the Assistant Commissioner, be provided with proper regulators at their heads of such pattern as may be directed.

38. Watercourses must be provided with culverts and other masonry works of such patterns as may be directed, wherever necessary for the prevention of waste of water.

39. In case of failure by the owners to comply with any order issued under rules 36, 37 and 38 or at the request of the owners necessary repairs to or works on watercourse may be executed by Government and the cost recovered from the owner or owners of the watercourses.

40. Cutting grass, or grazing cattle, or cutting or injuring trees on embankment of any Government tank, without due authority is prohibited.

E.—Requisition of and the rates to be paid for labour in cases of serious emergency threatening sudden and extensive public injury [Regulation, Section 4 (1) (e)].

41. When any tank is maintained by Government, the Chief Commissioner may, if he thinks fit, order the Commissioner to prepare a list of such villages as are benefited by such work and such list shall set forth by name or office the person in each village to whom the requisition described in the rule next following is to be addressed and shall further show the number of labourers to be supplied by each village in the case of emergent repairs.

42. On the occurrence of any case involving danger to the existence of the irrigation work the administering authority, as described in rule 45, shall address a written requisition to the person in each village to whom such requisition is to be sent, and such persons shall thereupon be bound at once to supply his quota of labour for the repair of the work.

43. Such labour shall be paid for at the ordinary rates in force in the neighbourhood, eight hours work being considered a full day's labour. Provided that every man called on to the work shall be entitled to claim one day's pay. Requisitioned labour shall be kept on the work until all danger to the tank has ceased.

44. In the case of tanks of the 1st class when the delay of a reference to the administering authority would involve danger to the existence of the work, the person in local charge, whether circle subordinate, Munshi or Chowkidar, shall requisition the labour under the terms of rule 42 above, reporting his action at once to the Tahsildar for the information of the Assistant Commissioner.

F.—The person by whom, and the time, place, or manner at or in which anything for the doing of which provision is made in any rule, under the Regulation is to be done [Regulation, Section 4 (1) (f)].

45. Tanks of the 1st class shall be administered under the orders of the Assistant Commissioner who shall be the administering authority.

Tanks of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th classes, shall, subject to the general control of the Assistant Commissioner, be administered by a Panchayet of the village or villagers using the water of such tanks and such Panchayet shall be the administering authority of the same. Panchayets appointed for the purposes of these rules shall be tank Panchayet and not village Panchayets, and for executive purposes they shall be considered to be represented by their head member. The Panchayet shall, except where these rules provide otherwise, report all matters to the Executive Engineer or other officer appointed to act under rule 55.

46. The Panchayet shall be elected subject to the approval of the Assistant Commissioner, and shall consist of not less than three or more than seven members, who shall be land-owners using the tank water. The head member shall be the Lumbardar of the village, or if there be more than one Lumbardar or more than one village using the water, the head member shall be chosen by the other Lumbardars; and if there be a contest, that Lumbardar shall be chosen who is supported by the largest water-rate paying interest. Provided that in all cases the Lumbardar chosen must himself have the right of using the tank water.

47. The other members of the Panchayet must be water-rate payers, and they shall be elected by the land-owners who use the tank water, and in case of contest, those sharers shall be chosen who are supported by the largest water-rate paying interest.

48. The members of the Panchayet shall continue in office for two years, one-half being elected every May.

49. The Chief Commissioner shall prescribe periodical statements and forms for keeping accounts and reporting results and may from time to time vary such statements and forms. It will rest with the Accountant-General, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates, together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statements should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. 5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Comptroller General but direct to the Accountant-General or Government Examiner of Railway Accounts, in the province or Railway under whom they may desire to be employed.
